The Taj Majal Project

The Department of Landscape Architecture-UIUC has been involved in designing a cultural heritage district with Taj Mahal as its focus in Agra, India. The activities have included site visits by faculty and students, a symposium on Mughal gardens of Agra, and a semester-long design studio in 2000. The results are published in a report and CDROM. A web site entitled “A Walk Along the Yamuna” gives an overview of the project: http://www.landarch.illinois.edu/portfolio/facultyprojects/taj_mahal/index.html
